Jul 5, 2020 danierts7 7b17bfd26b The service I use has a 3 digit code which is used to reset the password, the number would be in the message you get on the email if you need it. Either you get the code or there is a new hacker account, it is fast in our experience. Jul 5, 2020 danierts7 7b17bfd26b me too... I was hacked and have been dealing with it for months. every time I get a text from this person, I have to go to my dashboard and see if it's a legit text, and sometimes it is, and other times it's a scam. and that's a lot of effort Jul 4, 2020 elysegilbert 7b17bfd26b 868ddde6e I was a victim of identity theft 6 years ago. It was a data breach from my employment of a large retailer. The person who did this to me did not mess with the money they stole from me. They used that money to buy a new house. They didn't realize a few years later that the amount of money they stole would be credited to my new bank account. It had enough money to buy a new house, however I did not get the credit for the money that was stolen. I do not have a new house because of that.
